PUBLIC MEETING.

At a meeting of the citizens of Pitt and adjoining townships, convened agreeably to previous notice, at the house of David Greer, in said township, on Monday, the 6th day of January, 1834.—GEORGE A. BAYARD, Esq., was called to the chair, and B. A. Fahnestock and Major R. L. Baker were chosen Secretaries—when it was, on motion of John M. Davis, Esq.,

Resolved, That Alba Fisk, Esq., Maj. R. L. Baker, and B. A. Fahnestock be a committee to draft and report resolutions expressive of the sense of the meeting.

Whereupon the following preamble and resolutions were reported:—

Whereas, good leading roads into a commercial place of the magnitude of the city of Pittsburgh, is one of the most desirable improvements which can be contemplated; and as nothing is wanting but a spirit of enterprize, in the citizens interested, to accomplish the object in view—that of M'Adamizing, in conjunction with the Greensburg and Pittsburgh Turnpike Road Company, the first five miles of said Greensburg and Pittsburgh road—commencing at the line of the Northern Liberties—and in order to endeavor to effect that highly desirable and laudable improvement, we suggest to this meeting the following resolutions.

1. Resolved, That a committee of eleven be appointed for the purpose of opening books for subscription of funds for this object, which shall be headed payable to said committee.

2. Resolved, That as soon as the committee appointed to open books for subscription, shall ascertain that $5,000 or more can be raised by them, payable in the following instalments, to wit: one third on the 1st day of April next, one third on the 1st day of August, and the remaining third on the 1st day of October afterwards, the said committee are hereby authorized to request a meeting of the board of Managers of the Greensburgh and Pittsburgh Road Company, and inform them what amount of money may have been or can be subscribed for that purpose; and pray a co-operation of them in assisting in the project of McAdamizing said five miles of the road mentioned. And furthermore the said committee are authorized, if they can raise the said $5,000 or more, after informing the managers of the present Road company, and particularly, should they agree to co-operate with them, to call a meeting of the subscribers to enter into such measures as they may hereafter adopt on the subject.

3. Resolved, That the amount subscribed, for the aforesaid purpose, after the work is completed, shall stand as a credit to the subscribers, for their toll, thereafter, until said sum may be taken out.

4. Resolved, That a committee of six be appointed to correspond with the member of Congress, from this district, requesting his influence to procure an appropriation, from the General Government, to aid in the contemplated improvement; and to explain, in said correspondence, he benefits which would result to the United States, in thus improving the means of transportation between the Allegheny Arsenal and the city of Pittsburgh.

The meeting having adopted the foregoing resolutions, the Chairman announced the following committees, viz.

Under the 1st resolution—Alba Fisk, Esq., G. A. Bayard, Esq., B. A. Fahnestock, J. Sarber, M. Leech, John Shoenberger, Joseph Haslett, Wm. M'Cree, James Kelly, Daniel Negley, and M. Lowry, Esq.

Under the 4th resolution—Maj. R. L. Baker, D. R. M'Nair, David Lynch, Esq., T. B. Dallas, Esq., B. A. Fahnestock, and Richard Biddle, Esq.

On motion of Alba Fisk, Esq, it was

Resolved, That the proceedings of this meeting be signed by the Chairman and Secretaries, and published in the different newspapers printed in Pittsburgh. The meeting then adjourned.

GEORGE A. BAYARD, Chairman.

B. A. FAHNESTOCK, R. L. BAKER, Secretaries.

American Iron.—Many experiments were lately made by the Franklin Institute relative to the strength and texture of American iron, which resulted favorably for the quality of our iron.

In accordance with this opinion, we have been favored with some extracts from the journals of the House of Commons, so long as 1737. Thus, in a report of that year, by a committee of the House, specially appointed, it is asserted that, from several trials made by the officers of the navy dock yards in Deptford, Woolwich, Chatham, Sheerness, Portsmouth, and Plymouth, American iron had been found equal in goodness and value, if not superior to Swedish iron. See Journal H. C. vol. 22, p. 850.

We have been favored also with similar reports from the same source made even in 1725.

We are tempted to subjoin the following testimony given before the Committee of Inquiry, deposed April 20, 1737.

Mr. Joseph Farmer, a manufacturer of steel wares, at Birmingham, being examined, said, that he used a parcel of 10 or 12 tons of bar iron from the American stamp, and that he had converted the same into steel: and did not doubt but that they in America might do the same, if they used pit coal and experienced workmen: that he made thereof springs for gun locks, sword blades, files, and bits to bore gun barrels, all which require the very best of steel: and that he had found it answer all the purposes he used it for, as well as any he ever used in his life of the best Swedish or English Iron; that the Swedish indeed worked something harder than this; but that he did not look upon it to be the better for steel: that he had tried it all ways, had put some at the top, some in the middle, and some at the bottom of the furnace, and found it, at all times, and in all situations, fit for his work: that it worked stiff, and not soft: and being of a stronger body, was preferable to the English and Swedish for gun barrels, the former of which was chiefly used for that purpose.

Squaring the Circle.—This celebrated problem has approximated to a degree of accuracy not formerly known, by a simple experiment. From a piece of carefully rolled sheet brass, a gentleman had cut out a circle of 1.9 inches diameter, and a square of 1.7. These he weighed; and found alike heavy. Being therefore of the same weight, and of the same thickness, the surfaces of the square and circle must also be the same. Squares are therefore to circles as 17 to 19.—Amer. Sentinel.

From the N. Y. Evening Star, of Friday.

The Middle Course.—The collar of the Journal of Commerce is made to feel uneasy; and, therefore, to get rid of the deposit question—to get rid of the monstrous assumption of power, and the substitution of the executive will for all the powers of the Government, the editor recommends that the present Directors and President of the U. States Bank should retire, and then, by asking for a modified charter, there would be no doubt of success. The editor might have concluded in the following words: "and I am instructed to say, by my new allies and directors, that if the Bank is placed under the control of Mr. Van Buren, he will secure to it a two third vote in case the President should again veto the bill."

Mr. M'Duffie congratulated himself that the Bank held no political affinity with the President, and, fortunately for the country, it is so, for that Bank, or any Bank of similar powers, placed under the control of any corrupt President of the United States, would, together with the power of the executive, make quick havoc with public Liberty. We have long known the fact that no real or honest objection was to be found against the Bank—the plot was, to get the Bank in the hands of political jugglers; and now, after exciting the people against it by falsehoods, after violating the charter by seizing on the deposits—after giving a deep blow to commercial credit, and spreading distress, and creating bankruptcy over the country, the Journal of Commerce, the new organ of the Kitchen Cabinet, says, if Mr. Biddle and the Bank directors will resign, probably the Bank may be rechartered.

We are, and shall be, opposed to the recharter of that Bank, if any change is to be made in its government whereby it is to be created into a political machine, for the speculation of knaves and the advancement of ambitious demagogues, for we have long known, that that was the object, and the sole object, in view.

Mr. Biddle, at this day, sustains a much higher reputation for a skilful, honest, and firm presiding officer, than he did at the commencement of the war upon the Bank. Slandered, and most unjustly villified, by men whose objects he knew; assailed by the vilest caitiffs that were ever countenanced by any administration in any country, even in Algiers; with the personal hostility of the President of the United States to contend against; with the whole power of the Treasury Department directed against the Institution; with the abuse of the collar press, and the curses of every public servant in livery—he has, under this immense proscription, moved on with a steady eye to the safety of the immense institution committed to his care, with a liberal feeling to its friends, and even indulgence towards its enemies.

Now that the people's eyes are opening in every direction; when the real grounds of the conspiracy against the bank are distinctly avowed; when all the clouds are dissipating, it is discovered that the bank is safe; that the gold and silver in its vaults are adequate to meet all its obligations; that it has a considerable surplus; that its concerns have been honestly and judiciously managed; and that such an institution, so governed, is essentially necessary for the prosperity of the country;—after these discoveries are made, the Journal of Commerce, advisedly no doubt, generously asks for the removal or resignation of the honest officer who alone had the power and ability to resist this storm.

Iron Steamboats.—An enterprising gentleman in Georgia, engaged in the trade between Savannah and Augusta, on the river Savannah, has made arrangements to test the application of iron steamboats to shoal water navigation. He contends that no sufficient trial has been given to them, either in this country or in Europe, and he has accordingly ordered a boat with the requisite machinery to be constructed in England, in detached parts, so as to be put up here, complete for use. The reason given for having the work done abroad is, that iron plates of the requisite dimensions cannot be rolled in this country, or, if they could, that the cost would be twice that of the foreign plates.

The boat, when constructed, will be one hundred and nine feet in length, twenty two feet in breadth, seven feet hold, and of the burden of 180 tons. According to the estimates, her draught of water, when her machinery, wood and water are on board, will not exceed two feet. The great benefits of such an improvement, in making navigable the shoal waters of the rivers and sounds of the two Carolinas and Georgia, are obvious.

Mr. Lamar, who undertakes the experiment, has applied to Congress for a remission of the duties charged upon the importation of the iron in question. He rests his claim upon the general importance of the improvement to the interior commerce of the United States; the uncertainty of its final success, being an experiment made at his individual cost; and the precedent in his favor of similar exemptions granted by Congress, to incorporated Rail Road Companies, in the relinquishment of the duties on iron. The cost of the boat, when completed with the requisite machinery, will be from twenty five to thirty thousand dollars.—upon which the duties, levied according to existing laws, would be from seven to eight thousand dollars.—Balt. Amer.

NATIONAL CONVENTION, to nominate candidates for the Presidency.—It is well remarked, by a leading Jackson and Wolf paper, of Pennsylvania, that from the tone of many of the democratic newspapers of that state, "the question of a National Convention was not settled by the late legislative caucus." We observe, indeed, that several of these prints oppose the plan of a National Convention, with spirit and vigor, and without any fear of the caucus. The Bradford Banner says, it consisted of but 48 members of the legislature.—Balt. Pat., Jan. 4.

Convinced at last.—It seems, from the following paragraph, which we find in the Philadelphia Sentinel, of yesterday, that that staunch Jackson paper is at length satisfied of the necessity of a Bank of the United States—"to preserve a safe and sound currency, and to maintain credit and confidence." "Circumstances cannot lie." The Sentinel can no longer shut its eyes to the evil effects of the reckless proceedings and proscriptions of the Kitchen Cabinet against the U. S. Bank.

"One bank, (says the Sentinel,) properly regulated or controlled, is unfortunately indispensable to preserve a safe and sound currency, and to maintain credit and confidence. This has, of late, been too palpably evidenced even in this city. Our local banks have confessed their own impotence.—They assert their doubt of each other, and their want of confidence in themselves. The only alternative to the public is the establishment of one bank, with branches, restricted by, but not subservient to, the general government."—Balt. Patriot, January 4.

The College bell has been hung—it is of a fine tone, weighs upwards of 300 lbs., and can be heard very distinctly over town. It was presented to the institution by the Rev. Zera Costin of Pittsburgh. We have now five fine bells, viz: the Court house—College—Episcopal church—Presbyterian church, and Academy; the largest of which is that of the court house, weighing, we believe 800 lbs., and has been distinctly heard a distance of 7 or 8 miles. In our village six denominations of Christians meet weekly for worship, viz: Presbyterian, Methodist, Episcopalian, Unitarian, Baptist, and German Reformed. Of these the three former own large and handsome churches. Bishop Onderdonk remarked that the Episcopal church of this place was, in an architectural point of view, the finest in the diocese. The Baptists own a small neat church. The Unitarians contemplate building one. The Catholics also contemplate building a chapel about six miles east of town.—Crawford Messenger.

Mr. Polk's speech against the bank is to be distributed in every form and without stint, from the office of the Globe, the official paper. But if the bank should contribute to the wider diffusion of Mr. Clay's or Mr. Binney's speech—oh! the monster! how it interferes in politics! how it labors to injure the President's character!—down with it, &c.—Nat. Gaz.

FROM RICHMOND.

Extracts of a letter from a citizen of Richmond, to his friend in this city, dated Jan. 1.

"There seems to be no slight degree of commotion produced and threatened, by the late act of the executive, in relation to the United States deposits. There is a strong feeling in this legislature against the transfer, and especially against the principles involved in the claim to the exercise of the power of removal—these will not be tolerated by the Ancient Dominion—though, at present, and after wading through the stormy contests of the last session, its citizens are unwilling to engage in any new political squabble with the general government or its administration; they would gladly see the present incumbent make the best of his way through the closing period of his term without further collision or contest. But, rely upon it, if the present interposition of Congress does not arrest the further encroachments upon their right, the spirit of resistance, now in embryo, will manifest itself in some strong measures—first, doubtles, by a solemn declaration of their rights, and then, if necessary, by a resort to ulterior means of more cogent character."* * *

"But, as was said before, the people are averse to the renewal of excitements, &c., which they flattered themselves were ended, at least for the present."

"Many of the leading politicians of the State have been engaged in the concert of a plan to disperse the gathering storm, and have been preparing to speak a public expression of their views on late measures; but it is now probable they will postpone all action until the legislature, in its character of conservator, &c., &c., shall have decided upon and recommended the measures proper to be adopted to meet the crisis."—U. S. Telegraph.

A letter from Matanzas, states that Col. Clinton, of the U. S. Engineer Corps, and eldest son of the late De Witt Clinton, died at that place on the 14th ult.—Poulson.

See, in our first page, the Richmond Resolutions, rich in fact and argument. They express what will be the sense of Virginia ere long. We shall see, it is hoped and believed, that the people of the South, who consider themselves as Republicans par excellence, and are so scrupulous concerning State Rights, will prove equally sensitive and conscientious when a consolidation of all power in the Executive branch of the general government is systematically attempted, and the whole essence of our political system about to be destroyed.—*Nat. "History of the Hartford Convention," with a review of the policy of the U. S. Government, which led to the war of 1812. One volume octavo, pp. 447. Several of our friends, men of excellent understandings, who were strongly prejudiced against the Hartford Convention, have stated to us that this book has changed their opinions of the general character and designs of the Convention. We think that every American who has condemned that body should do justice now to the case so far as to read Mr. Dwight's book, for the sake of historical truth as well as personal equity.—*Nat. The following account of some improvements going on near New Orleans, are referred to in the late Message of the Governor of the State of Louisiana.

Among numerous works of internal improvement to which the message makes reference, we remark as the most important, the completion of the Barataria and Lafourche Canal, which establishes an uninterrupted communication between the Mississippi and the Bay of Barataria.

In less than two months the Lock will be opened and Steamboats will be enabled to navigate between New Orleans and the Coast of Mexico. The second line of canals, intended to unite the Lafourche with the Mississippi, so as to transport to New Orleans, in less than six hours, the produce of Lafourche Interior, will probably be completed in the course of the next year. Another year will be sufficient to carry the canals as far as Attakapas. While the coasts of Mexico are thus brought within twenty four hours sail of New Orleans, the removal of the obstructions in the Red River will open to the same favored point, the commerce of the interior of that vast empire.—Poulson.

Charles X. it is supposed will shortly leave the Prague to occupy the estate he is said to have purchased at Steiermank. The Duchess de Berri will retire to one of the Italian states.

The Duchess of Berry is said to have obtained permission from the Emperor of Austria, to choose a place of abode in the Austrian States, with the exception of Vienna, Italy, and the Littorale. It is affirmed that she thinks of fixing her residence near Buenos.

The Carlsruhe Almanac, for 1834, is this year smaller than ever; yet portraits of Gen. Jackson, Otho of Greece, and a number of fancy subjects, are crammed into this literary curiosity, which is about the size of a tolerable thumb nail!

The Montreal Herald says—"A gentleman in this city has received a letter from his son in South America who is an intelligent shrewd young man. He gives an account of the discovery of the ruins of a city, in the province of Mexico, of a greater extent than any city existing in the known world. Certainly no such city has existed since the knowledge of that country by Europeans; and, therefore, a wide and curious field is opened for the speculation of antiquarians."

European polititics are, at this moment in a condition if not of positive general excitement, at least perplexed, and ominous of future trouble.—Yet, at this juncture, when, if ever, the energies of the strongest spirits and most disciplined and matured intellects are required for guiding the affairs of States, it so happens, and is worthy of comment as one of the curious results of the European systems of government, that the greatest absolute power is vested immediately or likely to fall soon, in the hands of mere children. The new Queen of Spain is a baby girl; the Queen of Portugal is just in her teens, having been born in April 1819. The heiress to the British throne, Alexandrina Victoria, is nearly of the same age, having been born in the month of May 1819, and the next is succession, the son of the Duke of Cumberland, is three days younger. The son and heir of the Russian Autocrat is but fifteen,—The eldest son of Louis Phillippe is but twenty three; and the young Henri IV., his cousin,—for whom doubtless a struggle for the succession would be made, were the present king to die,—will not be fourteen till next September. Wise heads these, and strong hands, to manage refractory millions!—Baltimore Amer. Jan. 4.

Port of Montreal.—According to the late papers from that city, the public revenue collected there for the current year, will amount to about £90,000 or $360,000, being more than £30,000 beyond the amount received for custom during the preceding year. From this it would appear that the trade of Montreal has increased more than fifty per cent. during the last twelve months, and that, too, not from any fortuitous circumstances, but from the natural course of business. We congratulate our Canadian friends upon this evidence of their prosperity—the fair and proper fruits of industry and enterprize.—Phila. Chron.

Those who read the following, we think, cannot but agree with us that fiction is not an indispensable quality in poetry. Though simple and unaffected, the truth is prettily told, and evinces a pleasant philosophy in the writer.

Spring it is cheery,
Winter is dreary,
Green leaves hang, but the brown must fly;
When he's forsaken,
Withered and shaken,
What can an old man do but die?

Love will not clip him,
Maids will not lip him,
Maud and Marian pass him by;
Youth it is funny,
Age has no honey—
What can an old man do but die?

June it was jolly,
Oh, for its folly,
A dancing leg and a laughing eye;
Youth may be silly,
Wisdom is chilly—
What can an old man do but die?

Friends they are scanty,
Beggars are plenty,
If he has followers, I know why;
Gold's in his clutches,
(Buying him crutches!)
What can an old man do but die?

We learn that the pressure in the money market has become severe in Boston and Baltimore.—Heretofore, it has never been even imagined as among the incidents of Republican government, that this kind of distress might be inflicted upon millions of citizens, by the blind prejudice and vindictive will of a Chief Magistrate. The historians exclaim against the Turkish Pachas for their avanies, and reproach absolute monarchs of Europe, for debasing the coin of their realms, and fleecing their miserable subjects—but what, as to effects, is there worse in those excesses of arbitrary and licentious power, than the embarrassments, losses, depreciation of property, destruction of confidence, suspension of industry, debasement of currency, paralyzing dread of the future, which have been produced by the machinations of a cabal at Washington?—Nat. Gaz., Jan. 3.

There are people in the world who are continually speaking of their ill luck. One of these discontented beings was passing through our streets the other day. Something glistened on the side walk, and he stooped to pick it up. It was an old fashioned pistareen. "Dangit," he exclaimed, in a tone of petulant disappointment, "if any body else had found it, it, would have been a quarter dollar."

From Rio Janeiro.—We have later dates, but little additional news from the seat of the abdicated Brazilian monarch. The contending factions still maintain an insidious hostility, without coming to open conflict. Hitherto, however, the imperial party has retained its power, and, with due circumspection, perseverance, and firmness, will probably maintain it.—Nat. Gaz., Jan. 4.

WE HAVE LIVED & LOVED TOGETHER.

We have lived and loved together,
Through many changing years;
We have heard each other's gladness,
And wept each other's tears,
I have never known a sorrow
That was long unsoothed by thee;
For thy smile can make a summer,
Where darkness else would be.

Like the leaves that fall around us,
In autumn's fading hours,
And the traitor smiles that darken
When the cloud of sorrow lowers;
And, tho' many such we've known, love,
Too prone, alas! to range,
We both can speak of one, love,
Whom time could never change.

We have lived and loved together
Through many changing years;
We have shared each other's gladness,
And wept each other's tears;
And let us hope the future
As the past hath been will be;
I will share with thee thy sorrows,
And thou thy smiles with me.

The arrival of the brig Smyrna, at Boston, from the port whose name it bears, has furnished intelligence to the 13th of October, and from Constantinople to the 7th. Our previous advices from the latter place, however, extended to the 10th, and consequently we have nothing new from the seat of the Turkish empire. The only item of interest relates to Greece.—Phila. Chron., Jan. 4.

Three Commissioners that had been despatched by the Ambassadors of England, France, and Russia, had visited the island of Samos, for the purpose of attempting, by their mediation, to restore the island to a state of order and subordination.—At their request, the functionaries and principal persons of the island had been summoned to meet at Vathi, for the purpose of making known their wishes, and hearing the representations of the commissioners. It was supposed to be the object of the mission to induce the inhabitants of Samos to submit to the authority of the Sultan. It was understood, however, that among the parties into which the inhabitants were divided, there were no party in favor of the Porte. Some were in favor of an union with the State of Greece, and part of an independent government.

In the mean time, affairs are in great disorder, and the weak are obliged to submit to the will of the strong. The commerce of the island is in a very depressed state.

The government of Greece had acted with considerable vigor in suppressing conspiracies which had been discovered. Colcotroni, a powerful intriguer, had been arrested, to the surprize and dismay of his partisans. The garrison of Bavarian troops at Napoli was feeble, but considerable reinforcements were expected shortly from Germany. It was said that the Bavarian garrison was to be augmented to 2,500 or 3,000 men. A Greek vessel had been robbed by pirates off the coast of Troy.

We read in the Northampton, Massachusetts, Courier, the following paragraph:

We stated a few weeks since, that a machine had been invented in this state to warm factories, and all large public edifices by friction. We had but little definite knowledge then of its merits or structure, but within a few days past we have seen it in operation in this town. We now speak from personal observation. The machinery which generates the heat consists of a pair of horizontal circular plates of cast iron, enclosed in a brick oven, about four feet in diameter, and weighing 1600 lbs. They operate upon each other precisely like a pair of mill stones, with this exception, the upper one is stationary, and the lower one revolves. The ordinary speed is 80 revolutions a minute, and the velocity is sufficient in two hours to raise the thermometer in the oven in which they are enclosed to 5,000. The size of the plates, their thickness, and the velocity with which they revolve, are considerations which the size of the building to be heated, must regulate. From the top of the brick enclosure, or oven, a funnel is projected, and from this the heat can be thrown off, as through ordinary furnaces, to any part of the building. We saw the machinery in operation, when cold, and in 15 minutes, the heat, from the mouth of the funnel, in an upper story, was almost too much for the naked hand to bear. There is yet much scepticism as to its final success, but we can see no reason for it ourselves. It has been thought the iron plates will soon wear out, but it is ascertained, by experiments, that these smooth, hard surfaces will substract from each other, but very little. The machine is exceedingly simple in itself, can be put and kept in operation by a band passed round a shaft, inserted in the lower cylinder, and without danger or attendance, kept in operation day and night, with the aid of a water wheel.

If (remarks the New York Post) a person once supposes this contrivance for generating heat brought into general use, what a curious and extensive change in the whole domestic economy of life does it not open to the contemplation. There would be no more the domestic hearth—the fireside circle. The culinary art would undergo a complete revolution. Ude and Kitchener would be obsolete, and new professors would have to teach new systems of cookery. The Englishman would have to give up his roast beef, and the American his roast canvass back ducks: for baking and boiling, we conceive, are the only two processes of cookery which can be performed by the New England heat making apparatus. People in the country would build their houses beside running streams that they might have water power to turn their heat mills; and some sort of jack would have to be contrived to turn the heaters of the inhabitants of cities and towns.

Review of the Baltimore Market, for the week ending Friday, January 3.

General Remark.—[We have but a meagre Report to make, although we have traversed the market with our accustomed diligence. The scarcity of money continues to impede the operations of trade in every branch, and the leading staples of the market are receding in price under the pressure.]

COFFEE.—About 700 bags new crop Rio have been taken this week for a neighboring market, at 12 1-2 cts. per lb. From 300 to 400 bags Rio have been taken by the trade, in limited lots, at 12 a 12 1-2 cts. In other descriptions we have no sales to report.

COTTON.—We hear of no sales worth reporting. Manufacturers buy in small lots only.

FLOUR, Howard street Flour.—The sales from stores have been very limited. Several parcels, including one or two this morning, have been sold at $5 12 1-2 per bbl. By the dray load, sales of several hundred bbls. have been made in the course of the week at $5 25. The wagon price is uniformly $5, but a considerable portion of the receipts continues to go into store on the country owners' account.

SUGARS—The sales are too limited to be worth reporting. The trade buy only the smallest lots, for immediate want.

WAGON FREIGHTS—Remain as last noted, viz: to Wheeling $1 75, and to Pittsburgh $1 50 per 100 lbs.—American.

J. APPLETON'S LATE IMPROVED

WASHING MACHINE.

THIS valuable improvement has been preferred by all who have used it to any other machine of the kind yet offered to the public.—It is expeditious, without injuring the clothes washed, as will be seen in the certificates below. All those who wish to save labor in washing, will please to call and see the operation, at the Masinon House, corner of Wood and Fifth streets. Machines, and the right of counties for sale—Machines 12 dollars—and at any persons service for trial. Dec. 31, 1833.

We have had in use Appleton's Patent Washing Machine, and do not hesitate to say that it is preferable to any that we have seen or used. A woman can wash as much in one day, with the machine, as she could in three by the hand, and only half the soap is necessary. We think it clears the clothes better than hand washing, without injury to them. We have also used Barnes' Patent Steam Washing Machine, called Peg Machine, but give Appleton's the preference. It washes cleaner and faster; therefore we recommend Appleton's Machine to the public in general.

Lucy Higginbotham, | Elizabeth McKim.
Robert Poore,

We have in use Appleton's Patent Washing Machine. It is so simple in its construction that it may be used by any unskilful hand, and we do recommend it as a great saving of time and labor.

A. Robinson, | James Fisher,
George Greenhow, | Isaac White.

Hamilton County Agricultural Society.

It is hereby certified, that the Judges, appointed by the Hamilton County Agricultural Society, for the exhibition, held at Mill Creek, on the second of October, 1833, having awarded that Appleton's Washing Machine, submitted to the Society, on trial, appeared to their satisfaction to be of utility as a labor saving machine in domestic economy—they unhesitatingly recommend it to their fellow citizens—in testimony whereof, this Certificate is given. FAIRBANK'S PLATFORM SCALES.

THESE scales are constructed upon an improved principle; are fitted up with great care by the manufacturers, and warranted to weigh with accuracy from half a pound to 12,000. Being placed in, and forming part of, the floor, the process of weighing is performed with ease and facility, while the space they occupy may be improved as a passage way or for other purposes.

The construction of these scales is such that they are little liable to derangement of wear, and their perfect operation will be guaranteed for any reasonable length of time.

The usual objection, that a new method of weighing cannot be safely entrusted to unskilful hands, is obviated by the use of the improved BALANCE, concerning which are the following remarks in the Journal of the Frankiin Institute, of the state of Pennsylvania, for the promotion of the Mechanic Arts, for June, 1833. (Edited by Thos. P. Jones, M. D., late Superintendent of the Patent Office, at Washington. Professor of Mechanics in the Franklin Institute, &c.

"The Messrs. Fairbanks, some time since, obtained a patent for a Platform Weighing Machine, and this mode of adjuating and graduating the Beam of the Balance, and the weights, was devised by them with a view to its employment with the before mentioned machine. We have had an opportunity of examining one of their balances, and have been much pleased with it: this examination, however, was not necessary to the conviction that it possesses a just claim to the character of a real improvement, the whole arrangement being so simple as to enable any person to perceive that it is well adapted to the purpose contemplated, that of facilitating the business of weighing, and more especially of heavy articles."

The subscriber, as Agent, will receive orders for the above Scales, which will be made in this city to order. They can be seen at his Warehouse, No. 84, Front street.

Nov. 8, 1833. MOSES ATWOOD.

SALE OF REAL ESTATE.

THE Subscribers, Trustees of the New Philadelphia Society, at Phillipsburgh, Beaver county, Pennsylvania, offer for sale the following property, to wit:

1	tract of land	containing	330 acres
1	do	do	330
1	do	do	67
1	do	do	7
1	do	do	40
	other lots, containing about		6

The above lands lie in one body, fronting about two miles upon the Ohio river—immediately opposite the mouth of Big Beaver creek, and the Beaver Division of the Pennsylvania Canal. The land is rich, and a part of it under a high state of cultivation—its location pleasant and healthy. The improvements upon the same are valuable, including the town of Phillipsburgh, late the residence of Count Leon, and the New Philadelphia Society. The town contains about 40 Dwelling Houses, now in order; some of them brick houses and two stories high. A large and spacious Hotel, a Store house, Church, a number of Shops, for mechanics, Stables, Barns, and other out houses. Also, two large new buildings, lately erected, but not yet finished, one of brick, the other of frame (the latter suitable for a manufactory) a very extensive public garden, and also fruit trees of various kinds. The property has also attached to it the right of a ferry across the Ohio, which is valuable, and becoming more so every day.

The above property is situated in the midst of a wealthy and prosperous country, distant about 28 miles below Pittsburgh, and one mile from Beaver, the seat of justice for Beaver county—and having a view for many miles up and down the Ohio, and of the country to a great distance around.

The subscribers are confident in saying that few situations could be found, presenting greater facilities to the farmer, mechanic, the manufacturer, and others—a soil rich and productive—the neighborhood abounding in coal—well timbered and watered, and, by means of the Pennsylvania Canal, and steamboat navigation, a cheap and ready conveyance to market, and a communication with other places is ensured.

The property is susceptible of divisions into farms, or for the location of new towns, or for the extension of the present one.

Should it not be sold on or before the first day of January next, it will then be offered at public sale, upon the premises, to the highest and best bidder.

It will be sold in a body, or in parcels, to suit purchasers.

Terms of sale will be reasonable.

Information can be had by enquiring of the subscribers, two of whom live in the neighborhood, and one on the premises.

DOCTOR ROBERT'S

☞WELCH MEDICAMENTUM.☜

FOR the cure of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Jaundice, Cholic, Fever and Ague, Dysentery, Headach, Loss of Appetite, Flatulence, Hypochondria, Hysterics, Dropsical Complaints, and Heartburn. It also prevents all Bilious disorders, and removes habitual Costiveness, Asthma, Strangury, Gravel, Rheumatism, Gout, and Impurities of the Blood.

A person who uses this Medicamentum will not require the use of the lancet, or any means of the healing art. It restores and revives the animal spirits, invigorates the system, removes nervous tremors, obtunds rheumatic and anthritic pains, and prevents their return. It cleanses the stomach of all morbid humors, which cause indigestion, acidities, headach, and lowness of spirits; cures all bilious disorders, and all cholics of the stomach and bowels, almost immediately; inspires cheerfulness; gives comfort to the dropsical; takes away palpitation of the heart; gives circulation to the blood; restores bloom to the sallow or sickly cheek, and plumpness to the meagre habit; purges without pain, and banishes all cause of fever of every kind. It acts on the stomach, that great reservoir of the human system, a diseased state of which causes all diseases. No alteration in the usual habits of life is required, but the abstaining from distilled ardent spirits.

CERTIFICATE,

From Rev. Derick Lansing, D. D., Pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church in Utica.

Utica, Jan. 6, 1830.

To Dr. Hitchcock.—Dear Sir: I have always been one of the number of those who have placed little confidence in nostrums or specifics, and for this reason, although I saw your advertisement of the Welch Medicamentum, I could not bring my mind to consent to use it. My sufferings, from indigestion, during the past summer, were so severe, as materially to affect my comfort, and my capacity for usefulness. I have reason to thank you, sir, that, on hearing of the state of my health, you kindly sent me your Medicamentum. I have taken it faithfully, and with entire success. I have not been visited with one of those turns of distress, which before were weekly periodical, since I began to take your valuable medicine. Could I receive the same relief which I have hitherto experienced, on condition of taking it for life, I should cheerfully comply with such condition. Your's, very truly, D. C. LANSING.

ANTI-DYSPEPTIC ELIXER.

ONE of the most agreeable and efficacious Medicines ever discovered for the permanent cure of those chronic states of derangement of the stomach, constituting that miserable disease called Dyspepsia.

The basis of this Elixer s vegetables, and perfectly innocent in its operation; it destroys that sour state of the stomach, the instant it is taken, and stops the morbid secretion, by giving strength to the muscular fibre of that important organ, by which means the peristaltic motion of the intestines is increased, and the costiveness obviated; a new action is given to the system, which puts an end to a train of distressing nervous sensations.

Another form of the disease in which the Elixer is admirably calculated to relieve, is the decline of fever, where the stomach will not bear the ordinary strengthening medicines indicated in such cases, it has the surprising effect of giving vigor, and restoring the natural secretions of the body, without increasing the febrile state. Not the least danger is to be apprehended from exposure to cold, while under the use of this medicine, nor will it interrupt necessary employment of the patient a single hour.

☞A number of cases of cures performed by the Anti-Dyspeptic Elixer in the vicinity of Pittsburgh can be given.

GEO. W. CARPENTER'S

COMPOUND SYRUP OF LIVERWORT,

A SAFE and Valuable Medicine for Coughs, Spitting of Blood, Consumption, and Liver Complaints.

Most of the medicines made use of for the above diseases are of a stimulating nature, composed generally of Resins and Balsams, in alcoholic solutions, which, although sometimes givingt emporary relief, in almost every instance where they are freely used, aggravate the disease, and reduce the strength of the patient.

This article possesses superior advantages over these preparations, its action being of a tonic, invigorating and strengthening nature, thus overcoming the disease by promoting expectoration, and gradually increasing the strength of the patient, and thus, without being attended with any unpleasant effects: it also agrees with the stomach, in a cases, and is a pleasant medicine to take.

PATENT PLANING MACHINE.—The right to use this valuable machine, invented and patented by William Woodworth, and known as Woodworth's Patent Planing Machine, may be obtained on application to the subscriber for the counties of Allegheny, Butler, Beaver, Washington, Green, Fayette, Somerset, Cambria, Indiana, Jefferson, Clearfield, M'Kean, Warren, Venango, Mercer, Crawford, and Erie, in the State of Pennsylvania. That part of Maryland lying west of the Blue Ridge; all that part of Virginia lying west of the Blue Ridge, except the county of Ohio. The whole of the state of Ohio except tho counties of Hamilton, Butler, and Montgomery. The whole of the state of Kentucky, except the counties of Jefferson, Boone, Oldham, Gallatin, and Campbell. The whole of Indiana, except the counties of Floyd, Clark, Jefferson, Dearborn, and Switzerland. The whole of the state of Illinois, and the territory of Michigan. Rights to use the machine in that part of the United States, named above, will be sold by the single county or in larger districts. As it is presumed that no one will purchase without seeing the machine at work, a description of it is deemed unnecessary. Should any person, however, wish to purchase, and find it inconvenient to visit the places where it is in operation, a machine will be furnished, warranted to plane, tongue and groove, and bring to an exact width and thickness, a white pine board of 12 feet long, and of any width from 1 to 14 inches, in one minute and ten seconds, or an oak board of the same dimensions in 2 minutes and 10 seconds. Machines may be seen at work in the cities of New Orleans, Washington, Philadelphia, New York, Boston, and others at the south and east, at Wheeling, Virginia, and at the saw mill of Messrs. Irwin & Heron, in this city.

Persons desiring to purchase will have the certificates of scientific and practical men who have seen it at work, in the different places in which it has been put up, forwarded to them. They give their opinion as to the great value of the invention state the time they have seen boards dressed by this machine, and describe the quality of the work as compared with that performed by hand labor.
